

How Psychodynamic Psychotherapies Change the Mind & the Brain

Price: $45.00

Description

"In a stimulating series of talks and discussions, members of the Boston Change Process Study Group present cutting-edge work on crucial elements that enable change to occur, including implicit relational knowing and implicit attachment-related processes. A dialogue with prominent synthesizers of interpersonal neurobiology; and affective neuroscience, explain how this information can be applied to enhance the process of change through moments of interaction between patient and therapist. {module[189]}"

Specification

| Conference Recordings | |
|-----------------------|--|
| Presenter(s) | Daniel Stern, Karlen Lyons-Ruth, Allan Schore, Alexander Morgan, Jeremy Nahum, Daniel Siegel, Nadia Bruschiweiler-Stern, T. Berry Brazelton, James Grotstein |
| Series | legacy, Attachment |
| Time | 11.5 Hours |
| Year | 2005 |